Joslyn Art Museum's Kent Bellows Mentoring Program Showcases Student Art with Exhibition Opening December 1; Fashion and Music Salon December 7

(Omaha, NE) – Joslyn's Kent Bellows Mentoring Program (KBMP) will present its 2017 fall young artist exhibition, ARTificial Reality, beginning with a reception on Friday, December 1. The public is invited to drop by the Kent Bellows Studio (3303 Leavenworth Street) that evening from 6 to 9 pm to view the show, meet the young artists and their mentors, and learn more about KBMP. Admission is free and reservations are not required. Student works on view in the exhibition are for sale with proceeds benefiting both the individual student artists and KBMP.

KBMP shows are culminating art exhibitions held three times annually at the conclusion of the program's spring, summer, and fall semesters. Each multi-media exhibition reflects the interdisciplinary structure of the unique mentoring programs. All KBMP young artists may submit up to three works for juried selection for inclusion in the current exhibition, and all entrants are guaranteed at least one work in the show.

The ARTificial Reality exhibition features a wide range of work including paintings, sculptures, ceramics, digital art, mixed media, and more – all created by KBMP teens from over twenty-five area high schools. Students in the Critical Arts program, under the direction of their artist mentor, are involved in all aspects of the exhibition,

About Joslyn's Kent Bellows Mentoring Program

Joslyn's Kent Bellows Mentoring Program empowers teens to explore, observe, think, and create in the arts by providing mentorship with professional artists. Three semesters per year, professional artist mentors help a diverse teen community find personal inspiration, develop their artistic voice, gain technical skills, and build an art portfolio. Teens and mentors meet after school in a collaborative studio environment that provides a balance of freedom and support, diverse art practice, and community engagement. The mentoring program is a partner member of the Midlands Mentoring Partnership (MMP). For details visit www.joslyn.org/education/kent-bellows-mentoring-program.

Our Vision — To be cherished and respected as a premier art museum.

Joslyn Art Museum showcases art from ancient times to the present. The Museum was a gift to the people of Omaha from Sarah Joslyn in memory of her husband, George, who made his fortune as president of the Western Newspaper Union. The Museum's original 1931 building is one of the finest examples of Art Deco architecture in the nation, with 38 types of marble from seven countries. The Walter and Suzanne Scott Pavilion, a 58,000-square-foot addition built in 1994, was designed by renowned British architect Norman Foster as his first U.S. commission. The Museum features galleries, a 1,000-seat concert hall, fountain court, education technology gallery, lecture hall, classrooms, sculpture garden, café, shop, and Art Works, an interactive space for art exploration.

General Museum Admission: Free (additional charge for some special exhibitions). Regular Museum Hours: Tuesday through Sunday, 10 am–4 pm; late 'til 8 pm on Thursday; closed Monday and major holidays.
